Speaker:

Rose Bayer, MD
Pediatric Resident, PGY-3
St. Christopher's Hospital for Children

Dr. Rose Bayer is a third-year resident at St. Christopher's Hospital for Children. Originally from Connecticut, she studied medicine at Ben Gurion University in Israel, after serving as an EMT in Jerusalem upon completing her undergraduate degree at Lafayette College in PA. Outside of work, she loves the beach, skiing, cooking and traveling. She plans to have a career in General Pediatrics with a focus on adolescent mental health.

Learning Objectives:

1. Describe the roles of love and compassion in the context of childhood development
2. Explore the perception and utility of empathy and compassion in healthcare, in particular pediatrics
3. Evaluate methods of training empathy and compassion
4. Define compassion fatigue and burnout, specifically in the context of working in underserved communities, and address methods for mitigating it
